Good vibrations

The biggest crowd ever lounged to free music at this year's Riverbank Music Festival, courtesy of the West Sacramento Chamber of Commerce and the city's local government.

Sponsors estimated the crowd – which included many visitors from other areas, as well as local residents, at 2,500 to 3,500. The event took place near the Grand Staircase and a grassy area along the newly renovated "River Walk" north of the Tower Bridge.

"It was a thrill for the city of West Sacramento to see such a large crowd enjoying River Walk," said Art Schroeder of the city manager's office. "The crowd loved the music, and loved the design of the park. We heard this from a lot of people who visited River Walk from other areas."

The event has become an annual one for the city, featuring an eclectic blend of music. Schroeder said it was too early to say whether next year's version would be free to the public, or what kind of music might be booked.

Roland Hensley drops out of city council race

He may be the only candidate for office in Yolo County who does not want any votes.

Roland Hensley reports that he does not wish to be elected to the West Sacramento City Council on next month's ballot. He confirmed Monday that, for personal reasons, he is withdrawing from the campaign trail.

It is too late, however, to withdraw Hensley's name from the ballot.

Hensley, a retired businessman, was elected to the same city council and begun a term in 1993, but stepped down mid-term in 1996 due to health problems.

Remaining on the ballot for the council in the November election are incumbents Bill Kristoff and Mark Montemayor, and challengers Jeff Henry and Oscar Villegas.

Marching against breast cancer

By Daryl Fisher

CORRINNE REYNOLDS & mother LOUISE MARTIN

On Sunday, October 22nd, the American Cancer Society will sponsor "Making Strides Against Breast Cancer", a five K walk through downtown Sacramento. The annual event seeks to raise funds which will be used in the fight against breast cancer, which strikes 182,800 women and 1,400 men every year in the United States.

As in last year's event, organizers are expecting a turnout of close to 10,000 people and they are encouraging participants to walk as a team with friends from the workplace, a club, their neighborhoods, church or school. All sponsorships are also tax-deductible.

"This is going to be my second year of walking," explained longtime West Sacramento resident Corrinne Reynolds, who works for the Yolo County Sheriff's Department. "Quite a few of my family members have had different kinds of cancer, and I want to do whatever I can to help raise funds for research, treatment, and hopefully, someday prevention. My mother was recently diagnosed with breast cancer and when you start thinking that something might happen to your own mom, you realize it's time to try and do something about it."

'My mother was recently diagnosed with breast cancer and when you start thinking that something might happen to your own mom, you realize it's time to try and do something about it.'

-- CORRINE REYNOLDS

"I'm currently in remission," said Corrinne's mother, Louise Martin, "and like I told my doctor, I plan on living to be 95, so I'll be walking as far as I can in this year's event."

Corrinne's team consists of 22 family members and friends. She has also designed the t-shirts they will all be wearing.

"The American Cancer Society's logo is on the front of the t-shirts," explained Corrinne, "but they encourage personalized designs on the back and we're going to have a couple of large hearts on ours, both of which will honor the names of family members and friends who have struggled with this terrible disease."

"I think what Corrinne is doing is great," said her neighbor and friend, Janet Friesinger, who lost her mother to breast cancer earlier this year. "One in nine women get breast cancer, and if one person can be spared what my mother went through, that would be wonderful. Corrinne is such a nice person, and I'm not the least bit surprised that her team of walkers keeps getting bigger and bigger all the time."

Anyone interested in sponsoring Corrinne's team or joining it can do so by contacting her at 442-5965 or 530-908-2675.

The five K walk begins at the West steps of the Capitol and registration starts at 8:00 a.m. The goal is to raise as close to a million dollars as possible and walkers are reminded that this is a non-smoking event and also that pets and balloons are not allowed.

For those who are unable to participate in this year's 5 k walk but would still like to make a contribution, they can do so by mailing their donation to the American Cancer Society, 1765 Challenge Way, Ste. 115, Sacramento, CA 95815.

Council votes 3-1 to support interceptor

A proposal to "cooperate" with the Sacramento Regional Sanitation District's efforts to run a sewage line from the Natomas area through West Sacramento and back Elk Grove won the support of a divided West Sacramento City Council on Sept. 20.

Council members Greg Potnick and Mark Montemayor joined Mayor Christopher Cabaldon in supporting the resolution to cooperate with the district. Council member Jim Cahill opposed it, and councilman Bill Kristoff was absent.

West Sacramento's preferred path for such a sewer system involves bringing a sewage line across the river in the north part of town, and running it southwards along the Sycamore Drain and River City High School, under the barge canal and into Southport. The line would then re-cross the river on its journey to the Sacramento Regional Sanitation District plant in Elk Grove.

The decision to "cooperate" with this proposal is separate

Correction

An article last week detailing a couple of legal actions filed by Kim Gibson stated that her employment had been terminated by Washington Unified School District.

In fact, Gibson still works for the district. The district had merely, at one time, begun a personnel action against her that could have resulted in termination.

The News-Ledger apologizes for the error.

Ronna Kephart: candidate for seat on school board

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

Ronna Kephart thinks she can bring some grit and determination to the Washington Unified School Board – and wants your vote in November.

"I've been involved with my kids and their friends in the local schools," she said, "and I saw a lot of things that I did not like. I hope that with persistence and dedication, we can improve the education of our young people here. That's why I'm running."

Kephart, 44, is a single mom with a daughter at River City High School and a second one who has graduated from the school. Herself a graduate of the old Washington High School, Kephart now works as a criminal intelligence specialist for the state bureau of narcotics enforcement.

She popped into the public eye during her involvement with a new citizens group concerned about the local school issues this year.

Kephart formed the committee with friend Sandy Blazak after both became concerned about issues such as a lack of sufficient textbooks for students, and students "falling through the cracks" in local schools. They called for a public meeting of other concerned parents.

"We were surprised at the turnout," reports Kephart. "We got parents from every school in the community. And what we learned was that everybody there had a story about how they had gone to the superintendent for help, and how badly they were treated or how they had gotten no help."

"I saw how rude he was at a school board meeting, and voiced my own opinion there," she added. "I hadn't gone to the meeting to criticize him, I had gone because there weren't enough mathematics books for the students."

The new committee quickly turned into a vocal critic of the superintendent, and the school board then balked at renewing his contract. That superintendent has since accepted another post.

Kephart lists a number of issues she would like to work on as a board member.

"I'm concerned about the teacher turnover," she stated. "They hired 82 teachers this year. Ten are for new positions, seven are for retired positions, and the rest are from teachers that just 'left.' For the last two years, turnover has added up to about 120 teachers – and that's a lot. I'd really like to know why. One of the reasons for the turnover was the superintendent, and he's gone now."

She said of district management:

"They really need to follow through. The district three-year goals they announced appear to be good, but from what I've seen, things aren't followed up on. When issues are brought in front of the school board, questions are asked, but there are never any answers brought back."

Another problem Kephart would like to work on is to come up with a better way to monitor students' achievement levels.

"The schools have computers," she explained. "We need to have some software analyst come in and create a system where bells go off when a kid's performance goes down, and he or she needs counseling. A lot of kids in this community have parents who don't get involved, or sometimes don't even care. We have to outreach to those kids and let them know there are people who care."

Kephart added that she thinks student test scores in Washington Unified are improving, but "the scores I'm seeing 'plane out' at the seventh grade level, then start going down. We're losing them at the higher grades. Overall, we're at the 30 percent (below average) test score level."

"If they get a better education," she continued, "they'll do better on the achievement tests. Other factors include making sure the kids are at school. The parents need to be accountable. And we need to do class size reduction from seventh grade on, as well as in the lower grades."

Kephart is also concerned about having enough room for the growing number of kids in West Sacramento.

"With the new elementary school at Southport and one (proposed for) Bridgeway, where are these kids going to go to middle school and high school?" she asked. "At River City, the gym is being made just large enough for the kids they have now, and I don't believe they're enlarging the middle school, just renovating it. If more homes go up out there in Southport, more kids will go to these schools."

School safety seems to be an issue under control, she said.

"They have a police officer at River City High School," Kephart commented. "I feel it's pretty safe. I like the fact that there's a police officer there. I don't think one is needed at the elementary school, and if this is a time when one is needed, then we're in real trouble."

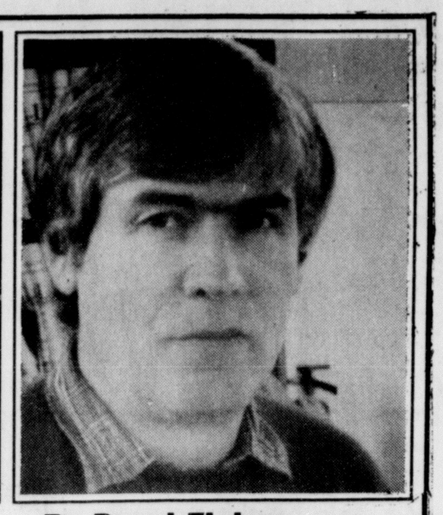

Kephart offered her view of what kind of educational reform is needed in West Sacramento.

"I think it's really important we go back to basics," she said. "For instance, math is just repetition and memorization, and kids should not go on to next week's lesson without learning this week's. Same with reading."

There are seven candidates running for three seats on the board next month. Kephart joins fellow challengers Karl Maschchefes, Ray Cushing, 'Buz' Scheuer and 'Bud' Dymond in the race, along with incumbents Irene Eklund and Pat Flint.

How Christmas was different during the Depression

My Back Pages

By Daryl Fisher

My parents dropped by the other night for a little visit and for some reason or another, somewhere along the line, the conversation turned to the subject of lazy kids; more specifically, my lazy kids.

"I always have to remind them to do their chores," I explained to my parents, "and even when I do, the odds are only about one in ten that they'll actually get done."

"What kind of chores do you have them do?" asked my father.

"Simple stuff," I said. "You know, like clean up their rooms, unload the dishwasher, pull a few weeds, maybe do a little vacuuming. But they've all figured out that they can do those kinds of things the next day, or the next week, so they usually take their sweet time getting around to them. I guess I should really stay on top of them, but yelling at your kids gets kind of old after awhile."

"Chores were different back when I was young," explained my father. "You didn't have much in the way of choice. If the cows needed milking, or the chickens and pigs needed feeding, or if the garden needed looking after, then you had better get out and do what you were supposed to, because those animals and those vegetables were the difference between having food on the table and going without."

As our conversation continued, I began to wish my children hadn't all scattered in different directions earlier in the evening (one was at night school, another was off somewhere with his girlfriend, and the other two were next door playing video games), because when one takes the time to listen carefully, my parents, like most Americans who came of age in the 1930s, have a lot of important information to pass along.

My mom and dad grew up in the middle of the Great Depression in a place called Ava, Missouri, in a small farming community where money was scarce and the highlight of the week was riding a horse-drawn wagon into town to purchase five loaves of store bought bread for twenty-five cents.

"No one had much money back then," explained my mother, "and Granny (her mother) made just about everything we ate from scratch at home. She made cornbread, biscuits and homemade yeast bread, and when she put together a salad, it usually had poke greens and dandelions in it that she had gathered up from the pasture. She made all of our butter, cheese, cottage cheese and buttermilk, and every year, she canned everything she grew in the garden, including tomatoes, beans, and corn. She also canned all the fruit she could get her hands on, especially peaches and pears. All together, there'd be about 300 different canned goods under her bed at any one given time, and we ate those along with the chickens and rabbits she raised. Dad usually butchered a pig or two every year, and along with potatoes and lots and lots of beans, that pretty much made up our diet. Only rarely would we buy something from the store, and then it was usually more of a treat than something we really needed. I can still remember my father taking us all into town once a year to buy fifteen cents of liver, which would feed the whole family, and how much everyone looked forward to that."

"Those were definitely hard times back then," said my father, "and if a family didn't stick together and share all the work, it wouldn't be long before you were in big trouble."

"What did people do for fun?" I asked them.

"Well, the holidays were always special," said my mother, "and everyone would dress up as best they could and find ways to entertain themselves."

"On Halloween," said my father with a smile, "me and my friends would usually get together and let the cows out of their pastures, knock over everyone's outhouses, and throw the rotten eggs we had saved up all year at each other. And believe it or not, that was considered to be having a really good time back then."

"Most of my memories from the Great Depression are actually very good ones," said my mother, "with the possible exception of the clothes I had to wear. For years, I had just two dresses, one that was orange and one that was green. My mother had made them out of old cotton feed sacks, and when I wore them to school every other day, the town kids would really make fun of me. But other than that, we had each other and we had our health and we were actually pretty well off compared to so many others. My parents always made sure there was enough to eat, and a lot of people back then weren't that lucky."

Then my mother said something I wish all my kids had been there to hear.

"Christmas was my favorite holiday," said my mother, "and although every once in awhile mom and dad would have enough money to give us all a store bought gift, most years we each got a banana, apple, and orange for Christmas."

"You got fruit for your Christmas present?" I asked in disbelief.

"Fruit was very hard to come by in that part of the country back then," explained my father, "especially bananas and oranges."

As I sat there and tried to picture the looks on my kids faces if they were to tear into their Christmas presents only to find oranges, apples and bananas, my wife seemed to sense what I was thinking and quickly said, "Daryl, we are not getting the children fruit for Christmas this year!"

"But maybe that would actually get their attention," I suggested. "Plus, just think of it. We could do all of our Christmas shopping at just one store -- Raley's."

Northern California sports fans are in sports heaven! Can you believe the San Francisco Giants and Oakland A's are hosting the first round of the Major League Baseball Playoffs in the same week and also the same day with both visiting teams from Big Apple. Bring on New York - New York! The Giants beat Arizona's left-handed Cy Young candidate, Randy Johnson, like a drum on the last game of the regular season to clinch the home field advantage throughout the playoffs.

The Giants will host the New York Mets starting Wednesday, Oct. 4th (1 p.m.) in the best of five series. The Mets scouting report indicates the Giants have a weakness against left-handed pitchers so the Mets will throw lefthanders Mike Hampton in game one (1 p.m.-ESPN) and Al Leiter in game two (5:18 p.m.-FOX). The Giants will counter with Livan Hernandez (17-11) and Shawn Estes (15-6). Game 3 and 4 will be in New York on Saturday and Sunday with game 5, if necessary, at Pac Bell Park on Monday, Oct. 9th (5:18 p.m.).

The Giants win in 5 games!

The Atlanta Braves and St. Louis Cardinals begin their best of five series in St. Louis on Tuesday. The Cardinals will upset the mighty Atlanta Braves in 5 games.

Across the bay the A's finally sold-out the Coliseum last Sunday in their 3-0 division clinching victory over Texas and now will host the Mighty New York Yankees in the best of five series. The New York Yankees will start the "Rocket Roger Clemens" (13-8) against the A's Gil Heredia (15-11) in game one (5 p.m.- ch.3) on Tuesday, Oct 3rd. Game two will pit the Yankees Andy Pettitte (19-9) against Oakland's Kevin Appeir (15-11) on Wednesday (5:18 p.m.-FOX). Game 3 (5 p.m.-ch.3) on Friday and game 4 if necessary on Saturday will be in New York and if necessary game 5 would return to Oakland (5 p.m.) on Sunday, Oct. 8th. The A's return to the playoffs for the first time in eight years to shock the Yankees in four games!

The Chicago White Sox will host the wild card Seattle Mariners in their best of five series. The Mariners creep by the Sox in five games.

Sports heaven in the Bay Area plus the Niners and Raiders will play for bragging rights on Sunday afternoon. Only in America!

How about those 49ers! The Niners won their second game of the season beating the Arizona Cardinals 27-20. Tranny, Brake & Tune

(Note: Below is the latest in a series of News-Ledger profiles of our advertisers. Enjoy!)

By Daryl Fisher
Features Editor

Gene Fairl, who owns and operates Tranny, Brake & Tune, which is located at 2031 West Capitol Avenue, was born and raised in the small farming town of Durent, Oklahoma.

"My parents worked the land all their lives," recalled Gene, "and we raised mostly cotton and corn. It wasn't an easy life, but it was a good life, and I have plenty of fond memories of those days."

When Gene was 20-years-old, a young woman from California came to Durent to visit relatives, and Gene ended up marrying her.

"My father-in-law worked in construction out in California," remembered Gene, "so we moved out there in 1959 and about three days later I was hanging drywall. I was in the sheetrock business for almost 40 years, but as far back as I can remember, I've always enjoyed working on cars, so when it came time to make a career change about four years ago, I decided to open up Tranny, Brake & Tune."

Back when Gene was growing up in Oklahoma, from the time he was about 12-years-old until he left for California, he worked part-time in one of the local gas stations to earn extra money.

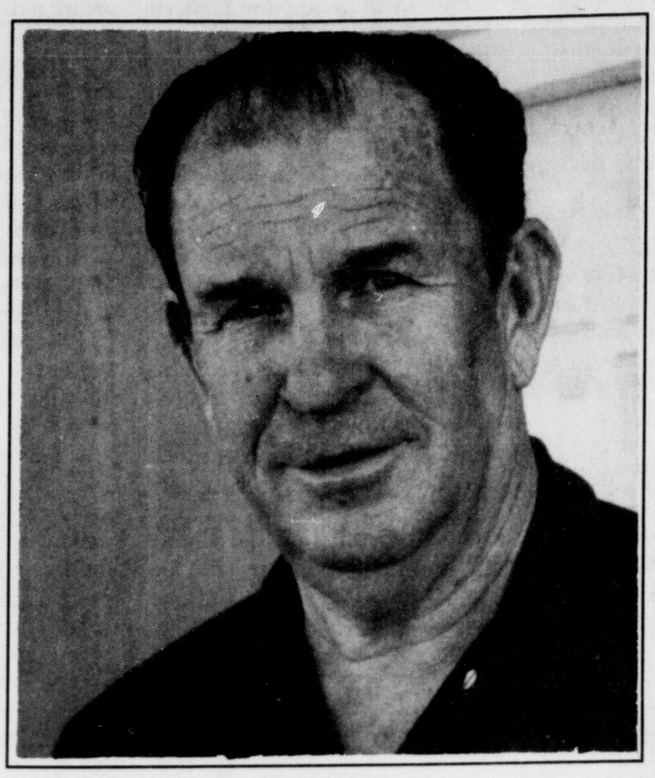

"I always enjoyed working on cars," said Gene, "and after all those years at the gas station, there wasn't much I didn't know about the automobile service business, so when I opened up Tranny, Brake & Tune, I was pretty sure that if we just treated all our customers honestly and fairly and did the work to the very best of our ability, it would be a successful business. I'd say that about 95 percent of our business is repeat customers or referrals, so that tells me that we're doing a good job."

Gene says that another important aspect of running a successful automotive service business is hiring really good help.

"My transmission guy has 27 years of experience at what he's doing," said Gene, "and another one of my employees has 40 years of experience. Even my secretary has been with me since the first day I opened the door. Quality help is very important in this business, and we definitely have that here at Tranny, Brake & Tune."

Of all the many components which make up a good automotive service, Gene says that treating customers honestly is the most important.

"I don't tell anybody something that isn't true," said Gene with emphasis. "Honesty comes first with me. It always has, and it always will. And I can't tell you how many times people have come in here looking for a second estimate on work they need done because the first one they got somewhere else was outrageous. Just the other day, a man needed his transmission replaced, and he had been told it would cost him $1,100, when in reality the job could be done for less than $500. No, if you want to get repeat business, you have to tell your customers the truth and treat them fairly, and we try very hard to do that here."

GENE FAIRL

"Tranny, Brake & Tune has always gone out of their way to meet our needs," said Matt Patereau, the Sales Manager of West Sacramento's Mayer Equipment Inc. "When any of our vehicles need air conditioning or muffler work, or smog checks, we always take them over to Gene. He's a good guy to do business with and he's always willing to help us out of a jam. Tranny, Brake & Tune is a good company and we've really enjoyed doing business with them."

John Tomasello, another satisfied Tranny, Brake & Tune customer said, "Gene's people did a great job of repairing my transmission leak and it was a pleasure doing business with Tranny, Brake & Tune."

When Gene isn't at work, he and his family enjoy camping and traveling.

"It seems like I spend most of my time at work," said Gene, "but I really like what I'm doing now and I plan on doing it until I retire. I've got good, loyal customers and employees, and West Sacramento is a wonderful place to do business."

In addition to quality transmission work, Tranny, Brake & Tune also does general automobile repair, including clutches, mufflers, and smog checks.

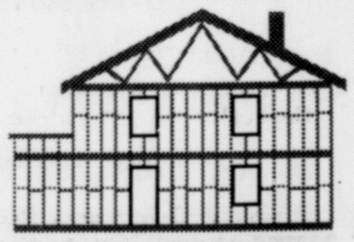

Tranny, Brake & Tune is open Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. It is located at 2031 West Capitol Avenue and Gene and his staff can be reached by phoning 374-8120.

(NAPS)—From the 1930s to the 1960s, hundreds of thousands of men and women worked at shipyards, factories, power houses, construction sites and similar places, not knowing how much their lives were in danger.

At shipyards like this, workers were exposed to dangerous asbestos fibers. Now, many may finally be compensated.

Many of these people were exposed to asbestos. Decades later, a cough that won't go away, chronic fatigue or shortness of breath would signal a serious condition such as lung cancer or mesothelioma.

People who suffer from these conditions, and their survivors, can find out what rights and options they have with the help of a lawyer.

For a free booklet on asbestos litigation or to speak to a company representative, you can call 1-800-476-6070.

WORD FROM WASHINGTON

Shriners Hospitals For Children Team Up With FBI

(NAPS)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation has its "sights" set on all of the Shriners Hospitals for Children. Through its Community Outreach Program, the FBI will have specialists help direct children with orthopaedic problems and severe burns to Shriners Hospitals, as well as informing them of volunteer opportunities at each location.

The FBI is helping put children in need of medical services in contact with Shriners Hospitals.

"All of us at Shriners Hospitals are very pleased and excited to have an organization of such stature come forward and assist us in our overall efforts to help children in need," said John D. VerMaas, president and chairman of the Board of Trustees of Shriners Hospitals. "We relish the opportunity to work with the FBI in any way we can to make their field specialists' volunteer service as pleasant as possible."

The linkup of the FBI and Shriners Hospitals came about as a result of the FBI's Suggestion Program, in which a special agent in Pittsburgh, PA, proposed the idea, which was eventually adopted.

Though the program is in its initial stages, field specialists from several FBI offices, including Pittsburgh and Los Angeles, have already begun to volunteer at Shriners Hospitals in their area, according to Barbara Wallace, the FBI's Community Outreach Program Manager in Washington, D.C.

"We've also gotten a few calls, too, from specialists in other areas who wanted additional information and direction as to how they can become involved in this program," Wallace said. "From every indication, they're very enthused about taking part and helping kids."

She said that FBI Community Outreach, Victim Witness and Employee Assistance specialists, as well as investigative personnel, are in a unique position to have a major impact on the ability of Shriners Hospitals to reach the children who need them the most.

"Every day, FBI personnel across the country find themselves in situations involving children who need the type of medical care provided by Shriners Hospitals. With the FBI's assistance in reaching out to parents, guardians, teachers, guidance counselors, social workers and other law enforcement personnel, we will be demonstrating that the FBI and Shriners Hospitals are working together to build a sense of trust and service in the community," Wallace explained.

At Shriners Hospitals, numerous opportunities exist for FBI volunteers, including reading to children, or assisting as a coach or trainer on sports teams for physically challenged children.

The FBI has sent each community outreach specialist a packed of information about Shriners Hospitals and their locations. Specialists are encouraged to initiate a partnership with the hospital or Shrine Temple in their respective jurisdiction.

For more information on Shriners' network of 22 hospitals that treat children with orthopaedic problems, burns and spinal cord injuries, write to: Shriners International Headquarters, Public Relations Dept., 2900 Rocky Point Drive, Tampa, FL 33607, or visit the website at www.shrinershq.org.

If you know a child Shriners can help, call 1-800-237-5055 in the United States and 1-800-361-7256 in Canada. Shriners Hospitals provide free treatment to children under age 18 without regard to race, religion or relationship to a Shriner.

The youngest Olympic boxing champion was Jackie Fields. He won the featherweight boxing title in 1924 at the age of 16 years and 162 days.

'Blue Ribbon Commission,' appointed by Mayor Christopher Cabaldon, serves as an 'unofficial' advisory commission and is chaired by former mayor Wes Beers

Mayor's Blue-Ribbon Commission on School Excellence

West Sacramento Mayor Christopher Cabaldon convened the "Blue-Ribbon Commission on School Excellence" to assess various aspects of education in the Washington Unified School District and to develop recommendations on how we can improve opportunities for student success in the district's schools. A preliminary report of the Commission's findings will be submitted November 1, 2000, with a final report scheduled for March 1, 2001.

We are asking for your written input on specific questions that will help the Commission in completing its charge. Please place a 4 in the box which best indicates your response and include your written comments to explain your position. Please return this questionnaire by October 11 to:

Endorsement question

I want to clear up a misunderstanding for the benefit of all.

In early July I thought I received the support of Misty Hocking, this was incorrect. In early August, a neighbor of Misty's filed papers for the school board. Misty supports this other candidate for school board. Therefore when I listed Misty Hocking as one of my many supporters, this was in error.

I would like to apologize for the misunderstanding and clear this for the record.

Let Nader debate

Let Ralph Nader debate! Do VP Al Gore and Gov. George W. Bush fear Nader? If so, how can either lead our nation? Without Nader, the presidential debates' answers will be primarily "Gore-Bush" at best. And better informed voters make wiser choices. Again, let Ralph Nader debate! If this renowned consumer advocate is not allowed to partake, we know how to express our frustrations at the polls on election day.

Thanks, River Cats

In my letter dated 10 March, 2000, I was unfairly critical of the name chosen for our Triple A baseball team.

I was frankly disappointed that the name did not clearly identify West Sacramento as the home of our winning team.

They didn't win them all and the Triple A World Series title didn't come back to West Sacramento this year. But the Front Office proved they all had the winning spirit and attitude.

Much could be said of that, but in the interest of brevity, suffice to say we should be grateful to the organization and all who brought baseball back to the Sacramento area.

I could not make it to all the games, but the ones I attended provided me with excitement from the playing field as well as entertainment and amusement between innings.

Not surprisingly, our baseball fans proved that we are world class sports fans ready and willing to go the limit to support our teams.

In closing, I would like to say "GREAT JOB CATS" and we are looking forward to another thrilling season next year.

Campaign rundown

Before attending the City Council meeting of Sept. 20, in regards to our sewage plant or hooking up with regional, I was 100% against it. Why did I change? Well, one reason was what Mr. Potnick had to say. All I ask is that our elected officials and their staff get us the best deal they can and then inform the public before they sign off on it. I trust Councilman Potnick and what he said. Although we have disagreed in the past, he is a man of high integrity and honor. He has served us well, is not running for re-election, and would not put us in a bad place. Plus he sticks to his guns, just ask Vince Frugoli. I wish him well in his retirement and thank him for his hard work in making our life here better.

Well, it's time for elections. I am in support of our elder statesman, Bill Kristoff, the old drill sergeant. I don't know what we would do without him. Mr. Baseball. He had a lot to do taking on Sacramento. I wish I could vote two times, they would go to him. I also support Mark Montemayer, our kid politician who is all grown up now. He stepped aside to let our mayor continue in that position and put West Sacramento first. That is why I support him 100%.

As for Mr. Hensley, as one old man to another, I think you should stay home and enjoy your

No, it's not

A cellular phone tower built by Sprint PCS near Linden Road and South River Road has been built to blend in.

The company designed the tower as a faux-tree as a concession to planning department officials who hoped the disguised tower might be less obtrusive to nearby homeowners.

For an idea of the size and scale of the tower, check out the size of the man at the lower left in the picture.

Funds headed for Clarksburg pool

State Assemblywoman Helen Thomson (D-Davis) announced last week that the governor had signed a budget bill that includes $100,000 to help clean up the only public swimming pool in Clarksburg.

The pool, owned by the school district in Clarksburg, is in need of $250,000 in renovation and repairs, said Thomson. Residents are raising money to meet that target.

"This is an important community asset," said Kathy Merwin of the Clarksburg General Plan Committee. "This will allow us to reinstate our Red Cross swim safety program as well as our recreational swimming. This is fantastic for our youth," she added of the state grant.

course the game is sold out and will be televised in the Sacramento area on channel 13 at 1 p.m. The Raiders are coming off a bye week and should have a few tricks up their sleeves. The last time these two teams met in a regular season game the 49ers beat them 44-10.

My NFL picks improved (8 wins, 7 losses) last week with the 49ers win over Arizona and the Rams blow out over the hapless Chargers but the Seahawks (+4) cost me with their loss to the Chiefs on Monday. This week I like the Titans (-10) at Cincinnati and the Jaguars (-2 ½) at home against the Ravens. Monday nights contest will be a tough call with Minnesota and Tampa Bay (+1) battling for the Central Division title. I'll take Tampa in the battle of rookie quarterbacks.

Tickets are still available for the "Willie Jorrin-WBC Championship Victory Celebration" on Friday, Oct. 6th at 6:30 p.m at the I.L.W.U. hall (600 4th St.) in West Sacramento. from a pending decision on whether West Sacramento should hook up to the new line. The city's other choice to serve its own projected growth is to build or expand its own sewage treatment plant.

On a separate matter, the four council members present approved the naming of a public area on the city's "River Walk" as "Union Square," in honor of organized labor. Labor groups have volunteered to pay for commemorative plaques at the location north of the Tower Bridge.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY NOTES

The Sacramento river registered 21 feet 1 inch, U. S. gauge at the Southern Pacific bridge yesterday, and at the time the reading was made the river was still rising. Should warm weather continue the river may go as high as 25 feet in a few days.

Owing to the extreme high stage of the river no fish have been taken during the past week or, at the best, only a few bass and practically no salmon.

County Assessor B. F. Hillhouse spent all of yesterday at the town hall listening to the pleas of property owners concerning assessments on their holdings. But very few kicks were registered and as matter of fact there were no kicks outside of requests for readjustments. Property values are placed at very reasonable figures in Yolo County and town property in Washington is valued so leniently that seldom or never is a kick heard.

"Queen of the Sciots" is the honor that all the people of Washington want for Sylvada McDonald. Give her a hand.

Tom Snider, ex-supervisor from Washington, has been able to be around during the past few days after a hard winter. He is improving with the weather but is not as strong as he used to be.

Mrs. Mary Hanson has been around town since the weather became bearable for persons of advanced years. She is feeling very much improved but is still careful.

Joe Andrews, wife and mother, and Earl Malcolm and wife, with their children spent the week-end at the Bennetts home and the Robbens home. They returned to Oakland Sunday evening.

Mrs. J. J. Browning spent yesterday with her friend, Mrs. F. DeRiso. She returned to Florin last night.

J. E. Countryman and wife of Oroville have been at the Egan home for several days. He has secured a job in the Sacramento Transportation Company shipyards and may remain here with his family.

Judge Barry took advantage of the presence here yesterday of Assessor Hillhouse and took up twenty-seven registrations in the town hall. He is urging every voter in the district to call and be registered so as to make themselves eligible to vote at the primaries in August and at the general election on November 3.

Eli Talbot returned from visiting his brother in Wheatland last Tuesday.

Mrs. Frank Shewart has gone to Yuma, Arizona, for a visit with her parents.

Sylvada McDonald will be Queen if half her friends will do their share.

A class play by the pupils of the eighth grade, to be followed by the presentation of diplomas will make up the program for the graduation exercises in June of the Washington school. The program will be given in the court of the school, which will be lighted with Japanese lanterns. After the program ice cream and cake are to be served by the Parent-Teacher Association. To defray the expenses of the graduation exercises the members of the association will give a dance May 12th at the school.

The moving picture entertainment for the benefit of the Rainbow baseball team has been postponed from next Saturday to May 4th.

George Beale has returned from a week-end trip to Shasta where he was a member of the Shriner's pilgrimage.

Mrs. Ofa Conrad returned to her home in Napa after a two weeks' visit with relatives in Washington and Wheatland.

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Cook and son, Floyd, with Mrs. Ann Chambers and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Ford of Roseville, motored last Sunday to Madison for a day's outing.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Thomas and Mrs. Ella Carson were guests of friends in Vacaville and Winters last Sunday.

The Rainbow baseball team of the Washington school defeated the Bret Harte team by the score of 13 to 0 in a game played last Friday.

Sheriff J. W. Monroe was a business visitor yesterday investigating the shooting tragedy that took place on Mary street.

"Queen of the Sciots" is the honor that all the people of Washington want for Sylvada McDonald. Give her a hand.

The Washington Board of Fire Commissioners will hold regular meetings on the first Monday of each month at the town hall. These meetings will be open to the public.

A dance to be given May 12th was planned at last Friday's meeting of the Washington Parent-Teacher Association. The purpose of the dance is to raise funds for the annual school picnic which will be held about the middle of June.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Eugene have returned from a trip to Berkeley.

The moving picture entertainment for the benefit of the Rainbow baseball team planned for tonight will be given tomorrow evening instead at the town hall.

A Reno man is accused of tearing his wife's wedding gown to shreds when a friend made the suggestion that the bride be kissed.

Jealousy is a terrible trouble maker.

A resident of Stockton has asked the chairman of the '49 Celebration of Sacramento when Sunday School services will be conducted during the celebration.

He has received no answer yet.

ONE DEATH WITH ANOTHER VERY LIKELY WILL FOLLOW SHOOTING AFFRAY OF LAST WEDNESDAY NIGHT

What the real cause of the shooting affray which occurred last Wednesday night at the Lundquist home at 525 Mary street is impossible to determine at this writing.

Mrs. Fay Lundquist is dead and Harry Williams, a roomer at her home, is unconscious at the county hospital, while her brother, William B. Jeffries, is at the White hospital suffering from a gunshot wound in his throat and another in his right shoulder.

Under instructions from Sheriff Monroe, Constable Buckingham had a watch placed at Williams' bedside at the county hospital yesterday afternoon, but the watch was removed in the afternoon because of the desperate condition in which Williams was.

On Wednesday night, Jeffries, Mrs. Lundquist, Harry Williams and Jack Shields or Silva played cards during the evening. When about to retire, Mrs. Lundquist went to her room on the second story. Soon after she was followed by Williams.

Jeffries, a brother of Mrs. Lundquist, proceeded to retire, as did Jack Shields downstairs.

Almost undressed, Jeffries claims he was just about to get into bed when Williams came downstairs and went to the back porch to clean a cigarette holder. On his return Jeffries made claim that Williams started shooting, striking him in the neck with one bullet which lodged in the right shoulder. Jeffries ran to the front part of the house where he fell, and on recovering himself ran to the DeRiso home, calling for help.

Frank DeRiso immediately summoned Constable Buckingham, who proceeded to the Lundquist home and found a terrible mess of bloodshed. At the top of the stairs he found Williams with a bullet hole through the top of his head and resting in a pool of blood. Closer examination showed him to be still alive. Mrs. Lundquist was found dead with five bullets in her body, fully undressed and under the bedclothes.

The revolver with all chambers empty was found near the extended arm of Harry Williams.

When Buckingham arrived at the house Jack Shields, a 17-year-old boy, was found asleep, as was also Jack Curry, a 7-year-old youngster, and the 5-year-old daughter of Mrs. Lundquist. These three had not heard the shooting although neighbors several blocks away were roused by the shots.

The two wounded men were taken to the emergency hospital in Sacramento where they received first aid; subsequently Williams was removed to the county hospital in Sacramento and Jeffries to the White hospital.

Sheriff Monroe doubts that the shots were fired by Williams as Jeffries claims they were. Williams could scarcely shoot himself through the top of the head, but likely he will never live to tell.

Jeffries was feeling very well when inquiry was made by The Independent last night at the White hospital with every chance of recovery if no complications set in.

Jeffries makes claim that he was shot before his sister was killed and that he did not hear or see the shots that ended his sister's life, although when he called for help at the DeRiso home he asserted that someone was killing his sister.

Shields, the 17-year-old boy, says there was no quarrel during the card playing, and being asleep when the tragedy occurred does not know who did the shooting.

Williams and Mrs. Lundquist have been living in Washington only a short time, about two months.

About three years ago they were residents here, living at 511 Fourth street and conducting themselves without annoyance to neighbors.

A brother of the dead man, Basil Williams, it is said, committed suicide over a woman in a manner similar to the shooting in Washington last night while in the Southern States during the recent war. He was in the service at the time.

Jeffries stated to Sheriff Monroe that he had lived with his sister for only a short time, but had heard prior to going there that Williams had been a constant visitor to the house. It was not until he went to the home of his sister that he learned that Williams was living there, he stated.

CONTRACT FOR WEST SACRAMENTO ROADS TO BE LET MAY 9TH

The Board of Supervisors of Yolo County will receive bids for the construction of a concrete road from the Catholic Church in West Sacramento to headquarters of Reclamation District No. 999, otherwise known as the Netherlands District.

The specifications are now on file in the office of the County Clerk in Woodland.

This stretch of road measures about seven miles and its cost will be taken out of the bond issue voted nearly two years ago.

This road is badly needed to accommodate the farmers of the West Sacramento District, the Lisbon District and the Netherlands District. It has been promised to those taxpayers many times and, at last, it is apparently about be realized.

ANTI-PROHIBITIONISTS WILL MEET TOMORROW

Tomorrow at 3 p. m. the Sacramento Branch of the "Association Against Prohibition" will meet in the Travelers Hotel for the purpose of discussing ways and means of amending the Volstead Law so that the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer may be permitted in the United States.

At a meeting held last Saturday preliminary steps were taken to form an organization in Sacramento County that would affiliate with the National organization that has been in existence in eastern States for more than a year.

The aim of the organization is to permit the use, sale and manufacture of wines and beers for all the people, to eliminate the moonshiner, to prevent graft and multiplication of crime, and to restore order and law in California and the entire United States.

Notices are being sent out to all members who have already joined that the meeting will be held tomorrow at 3 p. m. and hundreds of others who have not known that the organization was formed in Sacramento County are now preparing to join.

At the meeting tomorrow afternoon permanent officers of the organization will be named and elected, but for the time being Richard Cunningham, a prominent farmer of Sacramento County, is filling the position of temporary secretary.

Any person, man or woman, who is willing to sanction the objects of the organization above stated is welcome to join and is invited to meet at the Travelers Hotel tomorrow, Saturday, April 29th, at 3 p. m.

PUBLIC HEARING NOTICE

The West Sacramento City Council will conduct a public hearing on October 18, 2000 at 7:00 PM or as soon thereafter as possible on the following. The hearing will be held at city hall, 1350 Halyard Dr., West Sacramento. Interested persons are invited to attend. In compliance with the ADA, if you need assistance to participate in this meeting, you should contact the City Clerk at 373-5800. Notification 72 hours prior to the meeting will enable the City to make reasonable arrangements to assure accessibility to this meeting. City Hall is handicapped accessible.

1. To consider actions in conjunction with the proposed lease or sale of 12 units of affordable new multi-family housing for families at the corner of Douglas and Cummings St., West Sacramento (Assessor's Parcel Number: 014-630-38), also known as parcel B of Las Casitas.

The public hearing is required to review a report required by section 33433 of the California Health and Safety Code on the proposed sale, lease and/or transfer of Parcel B, in conjunction with consideration of approval of a proposed Disposition and Development Agreement with West Sacramento Housing Development Corporation.

The 33433 report and proposed draft Disposition and Development Agreement can be reviewed at the Redevelopment Agency Offices at 1350 Halyard Drive, Monday to Friday 8 am to 5 PM. For further information contact Joanne Auerbach or Tina Gontarski at 373-5843.

2. On the proposed establishment of City of West Sacramento Community Facilities District No. C (Gainsborough Services). NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the West Sacramento City Council on September 13, 2000, adopted its Resolution No. 00-30, in which it declared its intention to establish a community facilities district, to establish an appropriations limit for such district, and to levy a special tax to pay for certain services, all pursuant to the provisions of the Mello-Roos Community Facilities Act of 1982, Chapter 2.5, Part 1, Division 2, Title 5 of the California Government Code and Chapter 3.32 of the City Municipal Code. The resolution describes the boundaries of the proposed district, the services proposed to be financed, and the rate, method of apportionment, and manner of collection of the proposed special tax. The City proposes to tax all interests in property that may be taxed under the Act. For further details, the resolution is available at the office of the City Clerk, 1350 Halyard Drive, West Sacramento, California.

At the hearing, the testimony of all interested persons or taxpayers for or against the establishment of the district, the extent of the district, or the furnishing of the specified services will be heard.

If (i) 50% or more of the registered voters or six registered voters (whichever is more) residing within the District or (ii) the owners of one-half or more of the area of the land within the District that is not exempt from the special tax file written protests against the establishment of the district, and the protests are not withdrawn so as to reduce the value of the protests to less than a majority, the creation of the district and the tax levy shall not be considered for a period of one year from the date of the decision of the City Council after the hearing. If the majority of the registered voters or the landowners protests only against a specific type of service or a specified tax, then that type of service or tax shall be precluded.

NOTICE IS HEREBY FURTHER GIVEN that if, at the conclusion of the public hearing, the City Council determines to establish the district, the City Council will order an election to be held by the qualified electors of the district by mailed ballot, with each such elector having one vote for each acre or portion of an acre owned by the elector, on the questions of levying the special tax and establishing an appropriations limit.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS
FEDERAL AID PROJECT
NUMBER: RPL-5447 (015)
STATE NUMBER: 03-YOL-0-WSAC
CITY WORK ORDER
NUMBER: 1406

Sealed proposals for the work shown on the plans entitled:

WEST CAPITOL AVENUE BICYCLE PARK AND BIKE PATH RELOCATION PROJECT
FEDERAL AID PROJECT NUMBER RPL-5447 (015)

will be received at the Department of Community Development, 1951 South River Road, West Sacramento, California 95691, until 2:00 a.m. on Tuesday, October 24, 2000 at which time they will be publicly opened and read in the Conference Room at said address.

General Work Description: The work generally consists of the construction of a bike path from just east of the Yolo Causeway to a point on West Capitol Avenue where a mid-block crossing will be installed as shown on the plans. Included with the bike path is the installation of post and cable railing, lighting, bollards, culverts, water service connection, inlet modifications, fence relocation, partial removal of a concrete basin and widening of West Capitol Avenue. In addition to the bike path, a park will be constructed which includes grading the area and installation of irrigation and landscaping, and other related improvements as shown on the plans.

The work also shall include the replacement of any pavement, sidewalk, curb and gutter or public and private improvements removed or damaged as a consequence of the execution of this Contract, as well as all necessary traffic control.

This Contract has a completion time of forty-five (45) working days.

This project has a goal of 10 percent Disadvantaged Business Enterprise (DBE) participation.

No pre-bid meeting is scheduled for this project.

At the time this Contract is awarded, the Contractor shall possess a Class A General Engineering Contractor's License issued by the State of California.

This Contract is subject to State contract nondiscrimination and compliance requirements pursuant to Government Code, Section 12990.

Plans and specifications, and proposal forms for bidding this project can only be obtained at the office of the Director of Community Development of the CITY OF WEST SACRAMENTO, located at 1951 South River Road, West Sacramento, California 95691 (telephone 916-373-5854). A non-refundable payment of $30.00 for each set is required if picked up, and $40.00 if mailed.

No bid will be accepted unless it is made on the Proposal Form provided in these Special Provisions.

Bids are required for the entire work described herein.

Each proposal must be accompanied by cash, a cashier's check, certified check or bid bond, executed on the prescribed form, in an amount not less than ten (10) percent of the total bid price payable to the City of West Sacramento. Such guarantee will be forfeited should the bidder to whom the contract is awarded fail to enter into the contract.

Bidders are hereby notified that in accordance with the provisions of Government Code Section 4590, securities may be substituted for any monies which the City may withhold pursuant to the terms of this Contract to ensure performance. Such securities, if deposited by the Contractor, shall be valued by the owner, whose decision on valuation of the securities shall be final. Securities eligible for investment under this provision shall be limited to those listed in Section 22300 of the Public Contract Code and section 16430 of the Government Code.

The Department of Community Development hereby notifies all bidders that it will affirmatively insure that in any contract entered into pursuant to the advertisement, disadvantaged business enterprises will be afforded full opportunity to submit bids in response to this invitation and will not be discriminated against on the grounds of race, color, or national origin in consideration for an award.

Pursuant to Section 1773 of the Labor Code, the general prevailing rate of wages in the City in which the work is done has been determined by the Director of the Department of Industrial Relations. For bidding purposes these wage rate publications may be examined at the offices described above where project plans, Special Provisions, and proposal forms may be obtained. Future effective wage rates which have been predetermined and are on file with the Department of Industrial Relations are referenced but not printed in said publication.

Minimum wage rates for this project as predetermined by the Secretary of Labor are set forth in the Special Provisions. If there is a difference between the minimum wage rates predetermined by the Secretary of Labor and the prevailing wage rates determined by the Department of Industrial Relations for similar classifications of labor, the Contractor and his subcontractors shall pay not less than the higher wage rate. The Community Development Department will not accept lower State wage rates not specifically included in the Federal wage determinations. This includes "helper" (or other classifications based on hours of experience) or any other classification not appearing in the Federal wage determinations. Where Federal wage determinations do not contain the State wage rate determination otherwise available for use by the Contractor and subcontractors, the Contractor and subcontractors shall pay not less than the Federal minimum wage rate which most closely approximates the duties of the employees in question.

Attention is directed to the provisions of Public Contracts Code Section 5101 and following, concerning relief of bidders and in particular to the requirements therein that if the bidder claims a mistake was made in his bid, the bidder shall give the City written notice, within five (5) calendar days after the opening of bids of the alleged mistake, specifying in the notice, in detail, how the mistake occurred. The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and to determine which proposal is, in its judgment, the lowest responsive bid of a responsible bidder and which proposal should be accepted in the best interests of the City.

The Hundred Years War between England and France actually lasted 116 years.

golden years. You have a great family. Let the young run our city. We had our turn, now it's time to let the new generation have the opportunity to serve.

I don't know Mr. Henry personally, but I've seen him in action on the TV set and he's too conservative for me. He is a lot like Mr. Cahill, he runs against the grain. And I'll let him know a secret, the last three candidates who put a big sign on the northeast corner of Jefferson and Sacramento Boulevard lost the election. As for Mr. Villegas, I like him, he is a hard worker. His roots are deep here in West Sacramento and he is a family man. He has done a good job on the Planning Commission and seems to be one smart young man. I wish him the best. He's got this vote.

On abortion

The abortion statistic for married women -- half a million a year for all women (250,000 for married women) is true since the 1960s. And who knows how many trusting husbands have raised children to whom they have absolutely no biological connection.

For the record, well-to-do ladies have always had access to safe surgical procedures, as operating room staffs can attest. They are called D&C's, to deal with "unfortunate indiscretions". Not even husbands suspect.

Teens needing relief (and that is all they feel "after", have found lust & pleasure, and consequences for which they have not been responsibly educated by parents or school, know love is not spelled T-R-A-P and that they are not ready for parenthood.

The Pro-Life people need to be required to state, when they want to expound, just how many unwanted babies they have adopted and that they want to make money without having to get a real job. Then they can expound!

The girls who died in sleazy motel rooms before 1973 were not "bad" girls. They were "good" girls who did not know enough. The "bad" girls have always know how to stay out of trouble. They did not die at the hands of butchers.

Education is the key and moral standards in families can do much to reduce the need for RU-486.
